

ENVIRONMENTAL POLICY

Our business affects the environment through the use of finite resources and energy consuming processes. The environment and sustainability is important to us. Our commitment to reduce our processes and products impact on the environment is a part of our continuous improvement process.

Emballator Mellerud AB environmental work means that we shall:

- Have a well functioning environmental management system as base to our efforts to reduce our impact on the environment
- Through continuous improvements optimize the use of plastic raw material, energy and transports, reduce waste and use materials that have minimal impact on the environment
- Develop a personal responsibility of our employees through education, information and active participation in the company's environmental efforts.
- Comply with the requirements set by environmental legislation, government authorities and other stakeholders
- Work with suppliers and partners who have a like-minded approach to the environment and sustainable development